FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chameleon Releases Next Generation Rolling Tarp System.

Pointe-Claire, QC, March 27, 2008 – Chameleon announced today that it is releasing a completely redesigned Rolling Tarp System for all types of platform-style trailers.

Tania Neumann, Vice-President of Chameleon, said, “Our mission is to continually improve on our products so that we can provide our customers with unsurpassed reliability, ergonomics and increased fuel economy.”

This next generation Chameleon has been designed with simplicity and aerodynamics in mind. The ground operated front tensioning and rear adjustable locks are engaged in one step and do not interfere with the loading space. The new rear door locking mechanism is even easier to use making it the most effective on the market. A Chameleon designed air deflector, available exclusively for Chameleon systems, is integrated into our redesigned, streamlined headboard to rid tarp inflation and increase fuel economy.
